

School Excellence Framework

Version 2 | July 2017

Introduction

NSW public schools are committed to the pursuit of excellence and the provision of high quality educational opportunities for each and every child.

We prepare young people for rewarding lives in an increasingly complex world. Our vision is improved performance in every school, for every student, every teacher, every leader, every year.

The School Excellence Framework supports all NSW public schools in their pursuit of excellence by providing a clear description of the key elements of high quality practice across the three domains of learning, teaching and leading.

The Framework describes 14 elements across these three domains which define the core business of excellent schools in three stages. Each year, schools will assess their practices against the Framework to inform their school plans and annual reports. The description of excellence in the Framework supports schools as they engage their communities in the development of a shared vision, the identification of strategic priorities, and the ongoing tracking of progress towards them.

The focus is on students

In our schools, every child is known, valued and cared for. Parents want the very best for their children. In education, this means teachers and schools with a commitment to nurture, guide, inspire and challenge students – to find the joy in learning, to build their skills and understanding, and to make sense of their world. In the early years, it means having confidence that each individual child will be known and understood, and their individual potential developed.

As students progress, it means knowing that they are well supported as increasingly self-motivated learners – confident and creative individuals, with the personal resources for future success and wellbeing.

Excellence in learning

In our schools, young people will develop foundation skills in literacy and numeracy, strong content knowledge and the ability to learn, adapt and be responsible citizens. The journey to excellence for students in NSW public schools begins during the first important weeks of Kindergarten. Every child brings a different set of experiences, knowledge and skills to school with them, and understanding these is essential to planning their individual learning paths. From the earliest school days and throughout their time at school, teachers use information about individual students' capabilities and needs to plan for students' learning so as to engage them in rich learning experiences, developing the vital skills for flourishing – now and in future years. By sharing information about learning development, teachers work in partnership with parents as active participants in their children's education. At the other end of schooling, teachers and schools support students to make successful transitions to future learning and employment, with the skills to make informed contributions as citizens and leaders.

Excellence in teaching

In our schools, teachers demonstrate personal responsibility for improving their teaching practice in order to improve student learning. Student learning is underpinned in excellent schools by high quality teaching. Teaching in these schools is distinguished by universally high levels of professionalism and commitment. Lessons and learning opportunities are engaging and teaching strategies are evidence-based. Individually and collaboratively, teachers evaluate the effectiveness of their teaching practices, including sophisticated analysis of student engagement, learning growth and outcomes, to plan for the ongoing learning of each student in their care. Teachers take shared responsibility for student improvement and contribute to a transparent learning culture, including through the observation of each other's practices.

Excellence in leading

In our schools, school leaders enable a self-sustaining and self-improving community that will continue to support the highest levels of learning as a lasting legacy of their contributions. Strong, strategic and effective leadership is the cornerstone of school excellence. Excellent leaders have a commitment to fostering a school-wide culture of high expectations and a shared sense of responsibility for student engagement, learning, development and success. Students benefit from the school's planned and proactive engagement with parents and the broader community. Leaders in excellent schools ensure that operational issues, such as resource allocation and accountability requirements, serve the overarching strategic vision of the school community.

LEARNING DOMAIN:

In schools that excel, the school culture is strongly focused on learning, the building of educational aspiration and ongoing performance improvement throughout the school community.

LEARNING CULTURE	THEMES	DELIVERING	SUSTAINING AND GROWING	EXCELLING
WELLBEING	High expectations	Progress in learning and achievement is identified and acknowledged. The aspirations and expectations of students and parents are known and inform planning for learning.	There is demonstrated commitment within the school community that all students make learning progress. Partnerships with parents and students support clear improvement aims and planning for learning.	The whole school community demonstrates aspirational expectations of learning progress and achievement for all students, and is committed to the pursuit of excellence. Effective partnerships in learning with parents and students mean students are motivated to deliver their best and continually improve.
CURRICULUM	Transitions and continuity of learning	The school actively plans for student transitions (e.g. into Kindergarten; Y6 to Y7; Y10 to Y11). The school clearly communicates its transition activities to the school community.	The school collects and analyses information to inform and support students' successful transitions. The school seeks to collaborate with parents of students whose continuity of learning is at risk.	The school engages in strong collaborations between parents, students and the community that inform and support continuity of learning for all students at transition points, including highly mobile students and students with atypical enrolment.
ASSESSMENT	Attendance	Staff regularly and accurately monitor attendance and take prompt action to address issues with individual students. The school community celebrates regular and improved attendance.	Attendance data is regularly analysed and is used to inform planning. Whole of school and personalised attendance approaches are improving regular attendance rates for all students, including those at risk.	Teachers, parents and the community work together to support consistent and systematic processes that ensure student absences do not impact on learning outcomes.

Caring for students	The wellbeing of students is explicitly supported by identified staff.	Every student can identify a staff member to whom they can confidently turn for advice and assistance at school.	The school is organised so that all students have regular opportunities to meet with an identified staff member who can provide advice, support and assistance to help students fulfil their potential.
A planned approach to wellbeing	Students, staff and the community recognise that student wellbeing and engagement are important conditions for learning. The school plans for and monitors a whole school approach to student wellbeing and engagement.	The school collects, analyses and uses data including valid and reliable student, parent and staff surveys/feedback to monitor and refine a whole school approach to wellbeing and engagement, to improve learning.	The school has implemented evidence-based change to whole school practices, resulting in measurable improvements in wellbeing and engagement to support learning.
Individual learning needs	The needs of all students are explicitly addressed in teaching and learning programs.	Well-developed and evidence-based approaches, programs and assessment processes identify, regularly monitor and review individual student learning needs.	There is school-wide, collective responsibility for student learning and success, which is shared by parents and students. Planning for learning is informed by sound holistic information about each student's wellbeing and learning needs in consultation with parents/carers.
Behaviour	The school's wellbeing approach focuses on creating an effective environment for learning. Teachers and other school staff explicitly communicate expectations of behaviour across school settings.	Expectations of behaviour are co-developed with students, staff and the community and are designed to ensure effective conditions for learning. They are explicitly, consistently and supportively applied across the school.	Positive, respectful relationships are evident and widespread among students and staff and promote student wellbeing to ensure optimum conditions for student learning across the whole school.

LEARNING DOMAIN:

In schools that excel, an integrated approach to quality teaching, curriculum planning and delivery, and assessment promotes learning excellence and responsiveness in meeting the needs of all students.

Curriculum provision	The school offers a curriculum that meets requirements of the Department of Education and the NSW Education Standards Authority and provides equitable academic opportunities for all students.	The school's curriculum provision and evidence-based teaching practices provide a high expectations framework, within which all students effectively develop their knowledge, understanding and skills. The school monitors and reviews its curriculum provision to meet changing requirements of the students.	The school's curriculum provision supports high expectations for student learning. The curriculum is enhanced by learning alliances with other schools or organisations, where useful and practicable. Students' learning and courses of study are monitored longitudinally (for example K-2; K-6; 7-12) to ensure continued challenge and maximum learning.
Teaching and learning programs	Teaching and learning programs describe what all students are expected to know, understand and do.	Teaching and learning programs describe expected student progression in knowledge, understanding and skill and the assessments that measure them.	Teaching and learning programs are dynamic, showing evidence of revisions based on feedback on teaching practices, consistent and reliable student assessment and continuous tracking of student progress and achievement.
Differentiation	Differentiation of curriculum delivery within classrooms happens for some students with particular identified needs. The parents of affected students are advised about adjustments made.	Teachers differentiate curriculum delivery to meet the needs of students at different levels of achievement, including adjustments to support learning or increase challenge. Most students can articulate their learning and understand what they need to learn next to enable continuous improvement.	Teaching and learning programs across the school show evidence that they are adjusted to address individual student needs, ensuring that all students are challenged and all adjustments lead to improved learning. Teachers involve students and parents in planning to support learning, and share expected outcomes.

LEARNING DOMAIN:

In schools that excel, consistent school-wide practices for assessment are used to monitor, plan and report on student learning across the curriculum. Formative assessment is integrated into teaching practice in every classroom, confirming that students learn what is taught.

THEMES	DELIVERING	SUSTAINING AND GROWING	EXCELLING
Formative assessment	Teachers collect and use assessment data that monitors achievements and identifies gaps in learning to inform planning for particular student groups and individual students.	Teachers routinely use evidence of learning, including a range of formative assessments to inform their teaching, adapt their practice and meet learning needs of students.	Assessment is used flexibly and responsively as an integral part of daily classroom instruction. Formative assessment is practised expertly by teachers.
Summative assessment	Assessment is planned and undertaken regularly in all classes and data is systematically collected.	Assessment is a tool that supports learning across the school. Teachers use reliable assessments to capture information about student learning.	The school analyses student progress and achievement data and a range of other contextual information. Teachers respond to trends in student achievement, at individual, group and whole school levels.
Student engagement	Students know when and why assessment is undertaken.	Teachers share criteria for student assessment with students. Formative and summative assessments create opportunities for students to receive feedback on their learning.	Students and parents understand the assessment approaches used in the school and their benefits for learning. Feedback from students on their learning derived from assessments informs further teaching.
Whole school monitoring of student learning	There is a whole school assessment strategy in place that is designed to ensure that the learning of all students is systematically monitored.	The school analyses summative assessment data to identify learning progress of individual students and student cohorts. Teachers use summative data to identify student learning and validate formative assessment practices.	The school uses systematic and reliable assessment information to evaluate student learning over time and implements changes in teaching that lead to measurable improvement. The school has processes in place to support teachers' consistent, evidence-based judgement and moderation of assessments.

LEARNING DOMAIN:

In schools that excel, reporting that is clear, timely and accurate provides information that supports further progress and achievement for all student learning across the curriculum.

Whole school reporting	The school analyses internal and external assessment data to monitor and report on student and school performance.	The school has explicit processes to collect, analyse and report specific internal and external student and school performance data, on a regular basis.	The school uses a centralised system for analysing and reporting data on student and school performance, including academic growth, non-academic and cross-curriculum data. The school uses data to inform collective decisions about student learning, aligned with improvement measures in the school plan.
Student reports	Individual student reports meet Department of Education requirements and include personalised descriptions of the student's strengths and growth.	Student reports contain personalised information about individual student learning progress and achievement, and preview plans for meeting future learning goals.	Student reports are personalised and comprehensive, providing detailed, clear and specific information about student learning, growth, next steps and improvement measures, as well as relevant contextual and/or comparative data.
Parent engagement	Schools provide parents/carers with information on the learning progress of their children, including reports and parent/teacher interviews as well as opportunities to discuss this progress.	Parents are presented with clear information on what and how well their children are learning and receive regular information in accessible formats about how to support their children's progress. The school solicits feedback on its reporting from parents.	Teachers directly and regularly engage with parents to improve understanding of student learning and strengthen student outcomes. Reporting to parents has been enhanced in response to feedback received.

LEARNING DOMAIN:

In schools that excel, students consistently perform at high levels on external and internal school performance measures and equity gaps are closing.

Value-add	The school's value-add is not significantly lower than the value added by the average school*.	The school's value-add* trend is positive.	The school achieves excellent value-added* results, significantly above the value added by the average school.
NAPLAN	At least 90% of students achieve at or above national minimum standards on NAPLAN reading, writing and numeracy.	At least 35% of students achieve in the top two bands for NAPLAN reading, writing and numeracy.	Most students achieve in the top two bands for NAPLAN reading, writing and numeracy.
Student growth	The school identifies growth targets for individual students, using internal progress and achievement data.	Students are aware of – and most are showing – expected growth on internal school progress and achievement data.	The school has identified what growth is expected for each student and students are achieving higher than expected growth on internal school progress and achievement data.
Internal and external measures against syllabus standards	The school uses internal as well as external assessments (such as NAPLAN and HSC) to assess student progress and achievement against syllabus outcomes.	School data shows that student progress and achievement on external measures is consistent with progress and achievement on internal assessments.	School data shows that student progress and achievement is greater than students at statistically similar schools on external measures, and this is consistent with strong student progress and achievement on internal measures. Progress and achievement of equity groups within a school is equivalent to the progress and achievement of all students in the school.

Data literacy	Teachers access and engage in professional learning that builds skills in the analysis, interpretation and use of student progress and achievement data.	The school promotes and demonstrates professional learning in data concepts, analysis and use of student assessment data and related tools. Teachers use data effectively to evaluate student understanding of lesson content.	All teachers have a sound understanding of student assessment and data concepts (e.g. causality, bias). They analyse, interpret and extrapolate data and they collaboratively use this to inform planning, identify interventions and modify teaching practice.
Data analysis	The leadership team regularly uses student progress and achievement data to inform key decisions such as resourcing and implementation of new programs or initiatives.	The leadership team comprehensively analyses student progress and achievement data for insights into student learning and discusses results with the whole staff. All teachers contribute to gathering and analysing data.	The learning goals for students are informed by analysis of internal and external student progress and achievement data. Progress towards goals is monitored through collection of quality, valid and reliable data. Reporting on school performance is based on valid and reliable data and analysis.
Data use in teaching	Teachers review student assessment data and compare results from external assessments (e.g. NAPLAN, ICAS, PAT, HSC) with internal measures to build consistent and comparable judgement of student learning.	Assessments are developed/sourced and used regularly across stages/year levels/ subject areas or the whole school to help promote consistent and comparable judgement of student learning, monitor student learning progress, and identify skill gaps for improvement and areas for extension.	Teachers clearly understand, develop and apply a full range of assessment strategies – assessment for learning, assessment as learning and assessment of learning – in determining teaching directions, monitoring and assessing student progress and achievement, and reflecting on teaching effectiveness.
Data use in planning	Clear and accurate analysis of student progress and achievement data informs planning that is shared with the school community in the Annual Report.	There is a coordinated effort by school staff to engage the school community to reflect on student progress and achievement data and develop plans and strategies for improvement.	School staff collaborate with the school community to use student progress and achievement data to identify strategic priorities, and develop and implement plans for continuous improvement. Strategies implemented reflect research on best practice and include ongoing monitoring of success.

TEACHING DOMAIN:

In schools that excel, all staff demonstrate personal responsibility for maintaining and developing their professional standards. Professional Standards are a reference point for whole school reflection and improvement.
